GIS and Frontiers of Knowledge Conference

Please join us for the 3rd annual CGIA GSS event
Friday April 5, 2013 at the UC Merced California Room

This event will bring together state and regional GIS experts and educators, graduate students and faculty using GIS in their research, in addition to community members with an interest in GIS. Information on GIS education and professional development, latest technologies, and research will be shared.

Speakers will include state and regional experts in GIS, graduate students and faculty, and leaders using GIS to understand and address urgent local concerns.

Admission is free, registration is required. For further information please contact:
